Cervical/vaginal ThinPrep pap test reporting is currently delayed.

DETAILS

Due to recent staffing limitations and increased volumes within our Cytology Laboratory, we have been experiencing a delay in the turn-around-time for the ThinPrep Pap test. We are working diligently to increase our staffing to normal levels but do expect to see a continued delay in reporting for the next 8-10 weeks.

Our staff are working extra hours in an effort to maintain established turn-around-times. We appreciate your patience as we work to decrease the turn-around-time to established levels.
